DEDICATION

For your patience and kind understanding;

For your talents and willingness to share them;

For your assistance at times
when it was most needed;

For the initiative you have inspired
in us to seek higher goals;

For the extras you have given to us;

For these and for all of your many other contributions . . .

To you - MARJORIE M. FARIS - in recognition of all that you have done to make us better students, we dedicate the 1968 COMPASS.

STUDENTS GAIN PROFICIENCY IN THEN GO ON TO LEARN

In the English Department, emphasis is placed on the effective use of language, both written and spoken. Proficiency in speaking is gained by a program of oral reports, culminating in a formal Senior speech delivered to the entire Upper School student body. Understanding different cultures is learned in the study of foreign languages. Through the wanderings of Caesar and in the perusal of French and Spanish novels, students are able to grasp international contrasts.

FUN, THE LEGISLATION FOR 1968

In carrying out the campaign promise of the 1968 Student Council president, Linda Steele, "to make North Cross a more fun school", the Student Council had an enjoyable job ahead of them. Post-football game hot dog suppers were instituted and boasted cider and guitar players. At Christmas the council held a dance with a well-known band, Henry Stacy and the Majestics, and a fabulous singing group, The Impacts. In the spring a magazine sale was held to raise money for the Prom ... Would you believe a chauffeur driven car for the best salesman? The Student Council also worked to better student-faculty relations. Much discussion was held on honor codes. In retrospect the year was successful and totally enjoyable.

THE SCARLET LETTER

Annette Foster, editor-in-chief and Mrs. Hopkins, advisor, for the first time this year, organized the SCARLET LETTER staff so that all members had definite assignments. The Page Editors carrying the major portion of the work load were Shari Mayes, News; Mary Mountcastle, Editorials and Managing; Linda Valleroy, Features; Gordon Fish, Sports; Katrina Rogers, Art. Each of these departments was supported by photographers Kim Carmichael and Richard Buchanan.

In its fourth year, the SCARLET LETTER has begun to express the interests and controversies of the student body through staff editorials and student-written literary efforts. Student opinions are regularly voiced as a result of polls taken and letters written to the editor.

The innovation allowing the staff itself to layout the paper has resulted in a very pleasing increased interest in the six issues published this year; a fact definitely pleasing to all members.

THE ART CLUB

The intent of the North Cross Art Department is to study composition, mainly as it is related to the surface of the picture. With this aim we have investigated form and structure along with theories of color harmony in as many media as our time and space allows. The painting, drawings, collages, and prints of all the students, which includes four forms of the Lower School and the members of the Art Club of the Upper School, are exhibited continuously in the halls of North Cross. This enables the young artists to compare their works with those of their fellow students as well as exhibiting them to the parents and visitors of the school. To advance the awareness of other artists and art forms there are continuous exhibits from the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts and of various local artists.

There is an attempt to give a brief introduction to the appreciation and history of art by the perusal of reproductions and discussions of the styles and aims of the artists studied.

The actual working of the art groups involves some outdoor sketching in warm weather. The activities are mostly carried on in the studio area working from still life or creating imaginative compositions.

THE DRAMATICS CLUB

As a member "struts and frets his hour upon the stage", he undergoes emotions, often far beyond his understanding, and hopefully, provokes among the audience sympathy, horror or laughter. At the same time, the discipline required to prepare the play develops in each player the stamina to face the unexpected in future years.

Joan of Arc, Aloris Forbes, finds the King at last - Charles VII - Dexter Ross.

On to Orleans!

Joan of Arc, Aloris Forbes, prays before being burned at the stake.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club was reorganized this year under the leadership of Miss King, in an effort to provide cultural enrichment and practical training in music for Upper School students. The group has met weekly for practice of choral music, and though very few members of the group had had previous experience, their efforts were appreciated by all concerned.

The 1967 football season proved to be a difficult one for second-year Head Coach Marshall Stuart and Assistant Bob Robertson, as the squad was able to muster only one victory in six contests. The girls' basketball team closed their '67-'68 season with four wins against nine losses. Even so, the girls were not discouraged and played every game with determination. Many of the girls will return next year with the experience they have gained hoping to gear the team to a winning season.

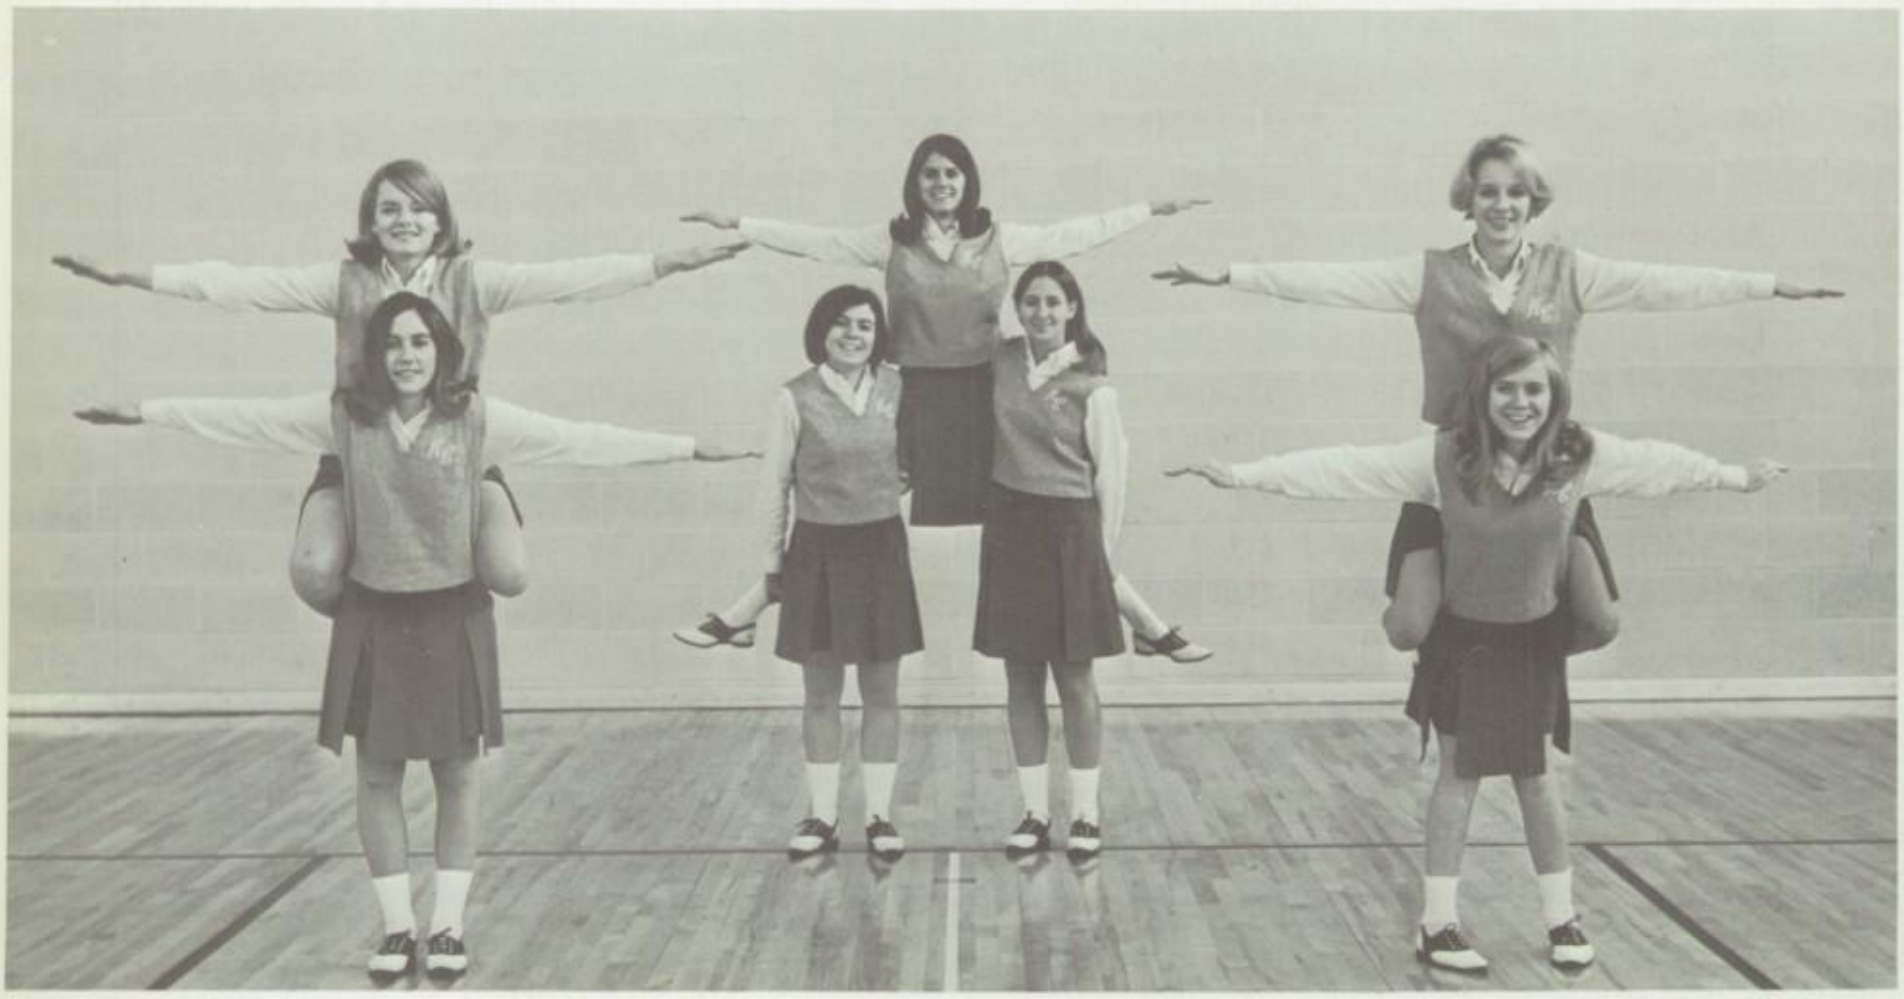
CHEERLEADERS ADD SPIRIT



Mary Nell Bowers, Nancy Trout; Co-head, Linda Steele; Linda Forbes; Co-head, Linda Valleroy; Cherry Freeman, Ginny White.

According to Mr. Stuart, the only good thing about Varsity athletics this year was the Varsity cheerleading squad. The girls attended a cheerleading camp last summer at Smith Mountain Lake where they gained valuable new ideas. After winning an honorable mention at camp, what goal was next? Well of course the Heironimous Cheer Rally. To the honor of North Cross, the cheerleaders brought in the Most School Spirit Award. With pom-poms and new cheers the cheerleaders experienced a fantastic year.

Fran Noftsinger, Janie Hopkins, Mary Alice Thornhill, Head Cheerleader Brenda Beatty, Margaret Robison, Mary Watts, Claiborne Gooch

The Junior Varsity cheerleaders form a tremendous asset to the spirit of North. This year's squad under the leadership of Brenda Beatty cheered vigorously at all games and joined with the Varsity cheerleaders in presenting various pep rallies. The girls held bake sales to raise money for sets of pom-poms. Their spirit was never lacking and so ... fifteen rahs for the J.V. cheerleaders!

Dear Joyce,

You know I'm going to not waiting for you to get home from school!?! I hope(for both our sakes) there are tuff boys at your school. Don't forget to try and look for wild earrings for both of us!

Hope you meet Mark someday and your husband ends up being him or somebody like him (real sweet).

Meanwhile stay wild, kooky, sweet, & sexy (mispelled??) and I hope you never give up your hopes and dreams!
